

Mellon, Walker on Income Tax Suit List With Score of Others

More Than 40 Tax Experts Are Engaged in Special Task of Preparing the Suits—Mellon Says It's "Crude" Politics—Walker Says Case Will "Vindicate" His Character.

Washington, March 12 (AP).—The justice department, cracking the income tax whip over the heads of Alexander W. Mellon, former Mayor of New York, and Thomas Sidlo of Cleveland, O., pushed preparation of a score of suits today.

More than 40 tax experts are engaged in the special task of preparing the suits, similar to those naming Mellon and others. Among the material at hand for their study are reports of testimony taken in the senate banking committee's investigation of stock market and financial practices.

The 73-year-old Mellon, member of three Republican cabinets, barked back yesterday at the justice department with a charge that the department was playing "crude" politics.

He called newspapermen to his apartment here last night during a break in his journey from Pittsburgh to Aiken, S. C.

"Please don't add any frills," he said, as he handed them a lengthy statement.

Declaring in the first sentence that he felt the effort to secure an indictment against him was "politics of the crudest sort," he reviewed his entire side of the case.

He charged the use of "innuendoes" by the justice department and the employment by some one, unnamed, of a "character-wrecking" campaign against him. Instead of evading income tax payments, he asserted, he had always given the government the benefit of every doubt.

"I am as much in the dark as anyone," he said, "as to the possible grounds which could have for such an action, but I am glad, under any circumstances, to get my tax affairs out of the attorney general's office and into the court, where I am satisfied I shall get justice and prompt disposition of the case which has so far been denied me."

Cummings' first response, when reporters told him of the statement, was:

"It would be manifestly unfair to differentiate between Mr. Mellon's case and others of a similar character."

The attorney general left a party at which he was host to scan Mellon's statement carefully.

The justice department chief also was informed of the first response of former Mayor Walker, in England. The erstwhile New York chief executive said:

"They are only doing their duty and I welcome it as an opportunity of vindicating my character."

Mellon's charge of "unfair and arbitrary" was applied to the manner in which the justice department had handled his case. He said he felt that he, "like any other citizen, should be given proper notice in the manner provided by law."

He said charges of tax evasion had even been made against him by the treasury.

Mellon also struck back at what he called "irrelevant references" by Cummings to the Aluminum Company of America as a "Mellon controlled corporation," which is a "one hundred per cent" monopoly in the producing field.

"What this has to do with my income tax is not apparent," said Mellon, adding that he and all the members of his family owned less than a majority of the corporation's stock.

He asserted Cummings' "own law" in Hartford, Conn., has recently been defeated in a suit in which the verdict was that the corporation had not violated the anti-trust laws.

The justice department officials said the attorney general was no longer connected with the firm which took part in the suit.

Believes Investigation Will Show Up Milk Price Situation

Koppleman Resolution Calls For Investigation of Milk Situation—Representative Sisson Says Study Will Show Unfair Combination Between a Large Dairy Cooperative and Large Milk Retailer Depressing Farmers' Prices.

Washington, March 12 (AP).—Representative Sisson (D-N. Y.) said today he intended to support the Koppleman resolution for an investigation of the milk industry, in the belief the investigation will show that an unfair combination between a leading dairy cooperative and large milk retailer is depressing farmers' prices.

Sisson said he was shaping a mass of material on the milk situation for a speech on the floor of the House, in which he said, both the dairy cooperative and the retailer will be named.

The Koppleman resolution, a joint measure which must be approved by both houses of Congress, calls for a milk investigation by the federal trade commission. Koppleman is a Connecticut Democrat.

Sisson explained his purpose was to establish the "illegal combination" between the cooperative and

Ohio Guardsmen Wait For Dillinger Arrival

Lima, O., March 12 (AP).—National guardsmen trained machine guns on the county jail today and buried an open challenge to John Dillinger, the "kill-crazy" jailbreaker.

Inside the jail was Harry Pierpont, henchman of the killer, who is on the way to the electric chair. He was found guilty in the early morning hours yesterday of the murder of former Sheriff Jess L. Sargeant during the bandit raid last October in which Dillinger was freed from the prison.

The guardsmen were ready to answer any attempt Dillinger might make to free his former ally, Gen. Harold M. Bush, commanding the guardsmen, said he had been warned the desperado might show up in the law. With his machine gunners under cover and placed so that they could sweep all entrances to the jail, Gen. Bush sent more than 50 telegrams to police between Lima and Chicago asking them to be on the alert for Dillinger and to advise headquarters here in the event he was seen. Dillinger has been at large for more than a week since his sensational escape from the Crown Point, Ind., jail.

With Pierpont convicted, the state moved today against Charles Makley, another Dillinger henchman under indictment for the former's sheriff's death. He has been described by the sheriff's widow, who was in the jail office at the time of the delivery, as the man who hit the sheriff over the head after he had been shot.

Russell Clark and Edward Shouse also are charged with a part in the slaying.

McCardle Narrowly Escapes Bad Burns

Thomas McCardle of 34 Chapel street narrowly escaped being seriously burned Saturday afternoon about 4:45 o'clock when a shed on the property of his residence was partially burned, destroying a motor cycle he was repairing.

McCardle was using gasoline to clean parts of the machine, and it is thought that the fumes which filled the small building, ignited from a stove in one corner and filled the place with flames. So quickly did the garage become a raging mass of fire, that McCardle barely escaped without being seriously burned.

The Kingston Fire Department was called and Twaitekill Hose, neighborhood company of volunteers, answered the alarm, too. They stretched 100 feet of hose and kept the flames from completely destroying the shed.

Two neighbors, John Conlin and Arthur Miller, came to his assistance and helped him remove a camp trailer parked near the building, saving that from destruction by the flames.

Two of 70 Labor Bills Passed by Legislature

Albany, N. Y., March 12 (AP).—Two of 70 labor bills have been passed by the legislature, a survey by the Federation of Labor showed today.

The bills enacted extend the five-week in public works for another year and place all highway work under the state labor law wage scale.

Heading the list of legislation on which action is yet to be taken are the unemployment insurance bills. These are in the senate finance and treasury ways and means committee.

The status of other leading labor bills is:

—A committee—Requiring a permanent 30-hour, five-day week on public work; placing all workmen's compensation insurance in a state fund; providing compensation for all occupational diseases; ratification of Federal Child Labor Amendment; raising compulsory school attendance to 15 years; state licensing of company stores.

—Passed Senate—Loss of fingers classified as part of hand for compensation purposes; prohibiting "yellow dog" contracts of employment.

—On third reading and ready for passage—Equalizing maximum compensation payments at $25 weekly; compensation awards to be paid while compensation pending; state regulation of employment agencies; compensation for injured industrial school teachers.

All Planes Grounded, One Fifth Of People Airmail Flights Await Of State Shared Relief "Fair-Weather" Plan Over Two-Year Period

Postal Officials Struggle With Stocks of Airmail Attempting to Give Rapid Train Rostering—Effect on Nation's Business Speculated Upon.

Washington, March 12 (AP).—The sky was empty of planes flying the mails today, just three weeks after the army took over the job.

The order grounding the planes made no mention of the ten deaths that have occurred since President Roosevelt cancelled the private subsidies and turned the airmails over to the army, but it followed within a day of the President's statement that deaths in flying the mails "must stop."

Major General Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the air corps, directed the order to all airmail zones, calling upon them to:

"Suspend immediately all carrying of the airmail until your personnel and equipment are in position and ready to initiate the schedules furnished you in radiogram."

The order specified that no airmail flying should be undertaken until authorized by headquarters of the air corps.

What effect the cancellation of all airmail service, even though temporary, would have on American business which has come to rely upon the swifter means of mailing, was a question. Postal officials, promptly notified by airmail zone commanders of the changed situation, struggled to give the fastest possible train routings to attacks of airmail shut down to them by Sunday's order.

The interruption of service is not expected to last for more than two or three days. Major General Foulois hoped to have a modified "fair-weather" schedule ready by Wednesday.

The air corps chief believes a revised airmail map, with planes and men to fly, will be in shape by mid-week, with the 18 routes which were being flown until today reduced to about a dozen.

The coast-to-coast "backbone" of the airmail will be preserved in the new setup.

Grounding of the entire airmail service followed President Roosevelt's statement of Saturday that death's among army mail couriers "must stop."

The White House statement was considered by many as a sharp rebuke given the army in years. These men contended that the military aviators are as good fliers as commercial pilots, but that their familiarity with mail routes, coupled with exceptionally bad weather during most of the period, has been a heavy disadvantage.

Although the army mail pilots were held to earth, the disasters that have marked their three weeks' experience in flying the mail remained fuel for congressional discussion today.

An emergency airmail bill, providing funds for temporary army operation, may get a Senate vote before night, although considerable debate is in prospect. Some Republicans are accepting the entire situation as political, and want to debate it.

An amendment prepared by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) would prohibit the use of the emergency funds except where pilots have been trained in blind flying and carry equipment for such flying. The amendment is intended as a safeguard against further loss of life by army fliers of the mail.

Both House and Senate worked today for legislation along the lines of President Roosevelt's request that the flying of the mails be returned to private companies under present contract system that would prevent recurrence of such cancellations as led to the wholesale cancellation of contracts last month.

Two Bank Measures Approved by Senate

Washington, March 12 (AP).—Two administration measures, extending the temporary bank deposit insurance law and guaranteeing the principal of home loan bonds, were approved today by the Senate banking committee.

The first measure would extend for a year, or until July 1, 1935, the temporary insurance of deposits plan now in effect.

The second would place a government guarantee back of the $2,000,000 issue of home loan bonds authorized by the last Congress to refinance small home mortgages.

The committee also approved a bill by Chairman Fletcher to limit state taxation of national bank shares.

The bill would prohibit a taxing district from imposing a greater burden on such shares than the average burden imposed in that district on other taxable intangible personal property.

It also would prohibit taxation of state banks or trust companies that are members of the Federal Reserve system at a greater rate than the National Bank Associations.

Charged With Bad Bills

Malone, N. Y., March 12 (AP).—John Bewas, 26, and Eddie Cusack, 28, both of Saratoga Lake, were held for an examination April 6 when they appeared before U. S. Commissioner H. C. Genaway today on charges of possessing and passing counterfeit $20 bills.

The charges were pressed by secret service agents A. E. Whitaker, Jr., Isadore Wallace and Sam Friedman.

One-third of Children in State Given Direct Relief From Public Funds

Albany, N. Y., March 12 (AP).—One-fifth of New York state's 13,000,000 residents shared in the $217,000,000 distributed by public relief agencies in the state during the past two years, the annual report of the temporary emergency relief administration showed today.

Included in the 2,500,000 persons who received direct relief from public funds were 1,100,000 children under 16 years of age—one-third of the children in the state.

The report also revealed that more than $41,000,000 was spent in civil works projects in the state from the start of the federal program last November to February 1, this year. In addition, $3,000,000 was made available to New York families through allotments to the 25,000 young men enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps, and subsistence gardens for the unemployed provided food valued at $1,500,000 during the two-year period.

The report covered the entire relief activities of the state since November, 1931, when the era was created at the request of former Governor Roosevelt and given its first funds, has spent $797,543, or less than one per cent of the monies it disbursed, for its own administrative purposes.

Commenting on the accomplishments under the work relief program, the report said:

"It has been natural and proper that the welfare effect of the work relief program has been paramount. To a great extent, however, the larger purpose has obscured the solid economic value of the work done, apart from the economic value of enabling this group to carry on so that they may again become the ultimate consumers that business so urgently needs today."

Alex Kish Held for Grand Jury Action On Murder Charge

Man Accused by Police of Killing George Markis in the Former Federation House on Hasbrouck Avenue, Waived Examination Today—Other Cases in Police Court Before Judge Culliton.

Alex Kish, 63, of Woodbridge, N. J., charged by the police with murder in the second degree in the slaying of George Markis in the former Federation House at 55 Hasbrouck avenue on the evening of Wednesday, February 28, waived examination this morning in police court and was held to await the action of the grand jury by Judge Culliton.

Kish was represented in court by Judge William H. Grogan, who informed the court that Kish wished to waive for grand jury action. As the charge against Kish is that of murder no bail was fixed by Judge Culliton.

According to the police department Kish is accused of breaking into the former Federation House some time between 7 and 10 o'clock on the evening of February 28 last, and first searching the apartments of his wife in the basement, and not finding her home, he is accused of then going upstairs and entering the apartments of Markis, who Kish, according to the police, said met him with a hatchet in his hand and that he fired at Markis in self defense. Then, according to the police, Kish said he finished the job with the hatchet.

The police when they reached the house detected odor of illuminating gas, which they traced to the apartments in the basement occupied by Mrs. Kish, and they further allege they found Kish lying across his wife's bed, fully clothed and unconscious from the fumes of the gas which came from a gas cock in an adjoining room. Kish was removed to the Kingston Hospital where he received treatment.

Wives Arrested Husbands

Archie Thomas of 227 Hasbrouck avenue, was arrested Saturday night by his wife and turned over to the police. The wife charged her husband with disorderly conduct. This morning wife and husband were cajoled with Judge Culliton in his private office and the case was not tried in court.

John Moore of 72 Garden street, arrested by his wife on charge of disorderly conduct in annoying her, was sentenced to 30 days in jail, but the execution of the sentence was suspended, provided he stayed away from the house and left his wife and two children alone.

Mrs. Moore told Judge Culliton that her husband had not contributed to his family's support for the past four years, and that she supported herself and children by working.

As Moore had some clothing still in the house an officer was assigned to go with him while he gathered the clothing and took it away with him.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water
in the Morning
Wash away all the stomach, liver and bowel poisons before breakfast

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gas, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.
To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.
Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish tang which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphate hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.
To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all keep it up! As you add hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Expect Passage Of "Gross" Income Bill

Assembly Expected to Pass Measure Carrying Out Recommendations of Allen-Same Exemptions as Regular Tax.

The amendment allows exemptions of $2,500 for married persons, $1,000 for single persons and $400 for each dependent. It has already been approved by the senate and is now ready for final passage in the lower house. The tax applies only to 1933 incomes and automatically expires at the end of the present fiscal year.

Meanwhile, a new note in the two per cent sales tax fight was sounded by the State Real Estate Association in a memorandum to Governor Lehman and the legislature demanding that passage of the Fearon-Wadsworth bill be made contingent upon enactment of adequate control provisions to guarantee that such taxes be reflected in equivalent local tax reductions.

The Fearon-Wadsworth bill proposes a two per cent levy on all sales and services and provides that 50 per cent of the returns be turned back to cities, villages, towns and school districts to apply on debts.

A public hearing on the measure will be held tomorrow and Wednesday.

G. William Magly of Jamaica, chairman of the realty association's taxation committee, proposes that a local government control board be created to make local budgets compulsory, prescribe assessment procedure, approve bond issues and have the final say in tax rates beyond certain limits.

If the state is to assume responsibility of broadening the tax base and returning large sums of money to localities to relieve local taxation," he said, "there must be proper safeguards set up to guarantee that the money thus received actually is used for the relief it is now counteracted by unnecessary bond issues, increased spending and inefficiency."

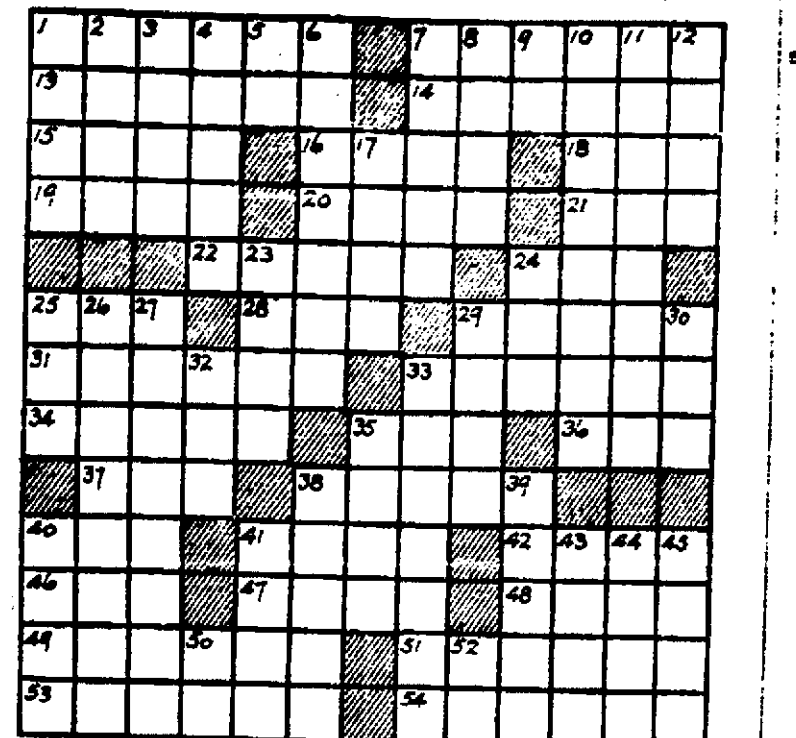

Mr. Magly also re-emphasized the association's recommendation that a state liquor monopoly be considered as a possibility for relieving the local tax load.

"It is hard to realize that there has not been more articulate support of this measure which offers local relief and a desirable method of social control without any additional tax on the people," he said.

How to Propagate Evergreens Told

Geneva, N. Y., March 12.—Means employed in the propagation of the many types of evergreens are described in a circular on "Plant Propagation" just issued by the State Experiment Station here and now available upon request. The publication also deals with the propagation of fruit trees, roses, and other ornamentals, and has been prepared by Dr. H. B. Tukey in charge of the nursery work at the Experiment Station.

"Aside from horticultural forms, evergreens are propagated largely from seed," says Dr. Tukey. "Seed of fir, larch, hemlock, arbor vitae, spruce, and cedars may be stored dry and planted in the spring. Seed of junipers and yew must be stratified as soon as collected and planted either in the fall or early spring."

"Evergreen seed is usually planted at the rate of 75 to 150 per square foot in beds four feet wide on mellow sandy loam and covered twice the diameter of the seed with sand or sandy soil. The soil must be kept moist during the germination period of 30 to 50 days, and shading is necessary."

"Horticultural forms which do not come true from seed are propagated by soft and hardwood cuttings and by grafting. Evergreen cuttings require more care and a longer period of time for rooting than do deciduous cuttings, ranging from two months to a year."

"The spruce does not root readily from cuttings, hence it is best propagated by grafting. The grafts are made in January and February in the greenhouse or in August under glass. Rootstocks are grown from seed and final shoots from trees out of doors. Side grafting is employed in propagating evergreens."

Lists Chief Factors In Care of Orchards

Geneva, N. Y., March 12.—Things to consider in the management of an orchard in New York state are dealt with in some detail in a publication from the State Experiment Station here where announcement has been made of a new and revised edition which is now available upon request. The pamphlet is known as Circular No. 121 and is entitled "Orchard Management."

Suggestions on selecting the proper location for the orchard with respect to markets, soils, exposure, moisture supply, and other considerations are followed by plans for laying out the planting and directions for setting the trees. The use of cover crops and fertilizers and the general subject of maintaining the fertility of the soil receive special treatment, while pruning and pollination are dealt with in full.

Revised schedules for spraying and dusting for the control of insect pests and diseases of apples, pears, peaches, plums, and sweet and sour cherries form an important section of the circular. These schedules take into account recent rulings pertaining to spray residues.

Under the heading of "Miscellaneous," directions are given for control of unsound, thinning, on grafting old trees and on bridge-grafting girdled trees, and on the protection of the orchard against injury from rabbits and mice.

GETS SAME STEADY HEAT FROM EVERY SHOVELFUL OF 'BLUE COAL'

"Cheapest, Too, in the Long Run," says Draftsman

"MY NEIGHBOR did me a good turn when he advised me to try 'blue coal,'" says John R. Fox, Jr., of Easton, Pa. "I had been using a cheaper fuel. The first load of this I got burned so slowly that I couldn't keep my place warm. Since I switched to 'blue coal' I get steady, even heat—the same from every shovelful. And I've figured out that in the long run 'blue coal' is cheaper, too."

In city after city the story is the same. One home owner tries 'blue coal'—is delighted with the results—and tells his friends and neighbors about it. But this is not surprising when you consider that for generations good Pennsylvania hard coal has been the standard for clean, dependable, economical heat. And in 'blue coal' you get the cream of the famous northern Pennsylvania anthracite regions—colored blue as your guarantee of top quality.

'Blue coal' starts up fast the minute the drafts are opened. It gives nice, steady even heat all day long. And it banks perfectly at night.

SHOKAN

Shokan, March 12.—Oscar Ganser came up from New York city to spend the week-end with his family at the Ganser homestead in the west end of the village.

The Shokan Social Eight met last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Giaccone on the north boulevard. Pinocle was played by the guests until a late hour and refreshments followed the games.

Those present at this pleasant social affair were: Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Sehlbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Grossman, Mr. and Mrs. Grant DeSilva and Mr. and Mrs. J. Giaccone.

Justus North, local building contractor, is engaged in making a number of improvements to the house and barn at Daniel Sampson's farm in the heights section.

A number of Shokan and Ashokan residents expect to attend the public Eastern Star card party at the Masonic rooms in Kingston this evening. Mrs. Lena Burgher, teacher of the Shokan school and prominent in the activities of the Kingston chapter, has been distributing tickets for the party to local people who plan to be present.

The date of the old fashioned pancake supper to be held by the members of the Reformed Sunday school in the church hall has been set for Wednesday evening, March 28.

The March meeting of the Shokan Home Bureau took place last Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Floyd Merrihew in Ashokan.

Mrs. Merrihew and Mrs. Fred Adelt, instructors for the day, demonstrated the cleaning of walls, wall paper, varnish surfaces and leather. It was decided that instead of holding another meeting this month, the members will attend that of Mrs. Tobey at the Clinton avenue M. E. Church on the afternoon of March 22.

Those present at Thursday's meeting were as follows: Mrs. C. H. Weidner, chairman; Mrs. Fred Adelt, Mrs. Clyde Winchell, Miss Edna Gongyear, Mrs. August Pfau, Mrs. George VonderOsten, Mrs. LeRoy Davis, Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. Nell Windrum, Miss Margaret Windrum and Mrs. F. Merrihew.

Reynolds Bishop of New York city spent the week-end with Mrs. Bishop at their home in the village center.

Local happenings at this time of the year in 1913 were: Abner D. and Grace T. Winne sold to James K. and Deborah DuBois a parcel of eight acres of land on the new reservoir boulevard at Ashokan. Mr. and Mrs. DuBois built a home on the property and still reside there. Mr. Winne had broken ground for a store and barn on land in the lower village which he and Jacob Crispell acquired from Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis. Preliminary construction work on the new depot was under way. The new M. E. and Reformed Churches were nearly completed. Jay Every of Ashokan had commenced work on a residence building next to the Winne store site. Business Commission No. 2 awarded John Gallagher $300 for loss of orchestra business. Mr. Gallagher played the accordion and furnished other music for dancing. Other Ashokan claimants receiving awards were: Bertha Johnson of Boiceville, $250 for laundry, farming and boarding business; Martin J. Every, Boiceville, $250 for teaming and contracting business. The blossoms were falling thick and fast in "Plumland" those days.

Perfect attendance records for February at the Shokan public school were held by Ethel Selantano and Charles Personous. The average attendance was low on account of the severe weather conditions during the month. Miss Selantano, one of the record holders, resides in the mountain neighborhood and thus has nearly the longest trip to and from school. The honor scholars for February were: Annette Robeson, Louis Robeson and Otto Grossman, 95 per cent; Ethel Selantano and Anna Leyder, 90 per cent.

James Rutherford, enterprising farmer of the Tonche section, has his big pile of firewood all sawed up. In addition to using large quantities of wood at home, "Jim" sells to many customers in the twin villages. He gets his polewood from one of the Elva Bogart lots on the mountain.

Joseph Argo, company supply clerk at Camp No. 2, has invested in a new Plymouth coupe, bought of the Van Kleeck Motor Company of Kingston.

The ice on both basins of the Ashokan Reservoir still holds intact and appears quite likely to remain unbroken for some time to come.

Aartsen Van Wagenen of Kingston canvassed this section for fruit tree orders last Thursday. The Van Wagenens expect to do a considerable amount of fruit and berry plantings on their summer place here. Chalet Elaine, this spring. Mr. Van Wagenen in addition to his interest in horticulture and other branches of farming, also is an enthusiastic member of the growing stamp collectors' club in Kingston.

The wind blew hard in the north reservoir country Sunday night, causing the snow which fell Saturday to drift quite deeply in some of the back roads.

Ed. Leyder now has much employment with the horse which he acquired of LeRoy Davis of Tongore last fall. Local employment conditions generally also are a little improved at this writing.

Notes in the pavement of the north boulevard are encountered at such frequent intervals that motoring down Stony Hollow and Boiceville is greatly increased thereby. Although course crushed stone has been dumped on the bad spots, it still is dangerous to take them at the normal rate of speed. What with conditions as they are, and the likelihood of much more heaving of the pavement during the next few weeks, the boulevard repair experts employed by the city will have a busy time of it this spring and summer.

March 12, 1892, the death took place of Moses Carille, a veteran of the Civil War. Mr. Carille had joined the Shokan M. E. Church July 1, 1885. He was married to Mary Hoonbeck and they had one son, John, of Delhi, who survives them.

The Carille home in the old village was on the north side of the Plank Road and between the residence of Charles H. Davis and Herbert A. Dibbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyler of Traver Hollow were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tyler of the north boulevard.

Construction work for the rustic bungalow which Earl North is building on the mountain road for Floyd Terwilliger is being held up, pending the delivery of more slabs from the Perry Davis quarry at Atwood.

Albany Attorney Testifies for Strew

Louis Snyder Tells of Meeting Dan O'Connell and of Conversations Which Followed—Says Young O'Connell Denied Knowing Strew.

Court Room, Albany, N. Y., March 12.—Testimony was introduced today at the trial of Maney Strew, purporting to show that Dan O'Connell, Democratic political leader, believed he was to have been kidnapped last summer.

Louis Snyder, an Albany attorney, whom Strew asked to advise him in negotiations with the kidnapers of Lieutenant John J. O'Connell, Jr., testified Dan O'Connell told him: "You know I can't go to New York, I'm the man who was to be kidnapped."

Snyder testified for Strew, accused of kidnapping Lieutenant O'Connell, nephew of Dan.

Strew had insisted Dan accompany him to New York for the final act, the payment of $40,000 ransom and recovery of the boy.

Snyder also said Strew had been warned by the gang that if the ransom was not paid by July 25 the young lieutenant was to be killed.

It told Dan that Strew had received a threat that the feeding of the boy would be stopped on Saturday, July 29th, declared Snyder.

"And after that John would be given poison."

Young O'Connell was released on the 29th, the day he was to die if the ransom was not paid.

Snyder related a meeting with Dan O'Connell, at the O'Connell town house when the political leader showed him the house was wired to give alarms.

"He told Strew and me," continued Snyder, "that he had a machine gun upstairs and rifles and shotguns in another room."

The conversation took place the day O'Connell gave Strew and Snyder the ransom money.

A previous witness, Sam B. Gross, who testified for the state, said he heard Strew discuss a kidnapping plot in New York and that the gangsters decided to "snatch" young John instead of "Old O'Connell."

At another meeting with Dan O'Connell, Snyder said he told the uncle of the hostage:

"Strew told me he had information he was to be framed and that I was satisfied that that was false."

"I know that is false," Snyder quoted Dan. "If Smuri (Police Chief David Smuri) interferes I'll throw him out in three days. As far as Delaney (District Attorney John T. Delaney) is concerned I carry him around in my vest pocket. You know he wants to succeed Staley (Justice Ellis J. Staley) on the Supreme Court bench. When an office holder is seeking another office he'll do what he is told."

The witness said the gang had agreed to reduce the ransom from the original demand of $250,000 to $75,000 before issuing a final threat that the boy was to be killed.

Snyder related each step of the negotiations from the time he received the $40,000 in two packages until the boy was returned to Dan's camp.

The kidnapers refused the first packages, apprehensive that the currency was marked, demanding that it be changed at forty banks, $1,000 to each bank. It was finally all changed at the Bank of Manhattan.

When O'Connell and Strew met Snyder at 230th street and Broadway, after the captive was released on July 29, Snyder said Young O'Connell threw his arms around him, crying:

"God, Lou I'm glad to see you. You certainly saved my life."

"There's the man that saved your life, know him?" Snyder said he asked and when O'Connell said "no" he introduced him.

"I'll never forget you, Mr. Strew, and if I can ever do you a favor I certainly will," Snyder continued, quoting O'Connell.

Strew laughed and said "Why they got me down as the kidnaper so you can see me at the county jail," the witness added.

"You'll never go to the Albany jail as long as the O'Connells are in power," Snyder again purported to relate O'Connell's language.

Lights of New York

W. L. L. SEVINGSON

We were talking about the return of that sailing party of Barnegat when a gentleman, who has been doing a lot of prowling about the coast, spoke up and announced that he was interested in a yacht, and he was to go shopping. Every body went to be entertained here. Facts that cost many thousands are being offered for a single very fine sloop. Naturally when the great financial blizzard struck the first luxury yacht was sacrificed since, according to all authorities, a steam yacht is the most expensive luxury known, being even more costly than a racing stable. Here the barish trend of the yacht market.

Many fine yachts were not put into commission last year and will not be this year. Several instances were cited of yachts that could be obtained for the accumulated storage charges. That brought up the rich man caught in such financial eddies that he owed the government $3,000 income tax. Uncle Sam being persistent in efforts to collect, the former rich man offered his $75,000 yacht in settlement. The tax collector took the matter up with Washington and the offer was promptly declined.

After that, some one recalled an incident from nearly a year in the past. A report spread that a certain well-known financier had gathered $15,000,000 in gold, placed it aboard his yacht and was about to flee the country when the government caught up with him. The yacht was supposed to be off the shore of Long Island. Several newspaper men searched the whole shore almost down to Montauk. And while they were doing that, another newspaper man found the yacht in a shipyard in Brooklyn. It was out of commission and had been for months. Then the financier was discovered in his Wall Street office!

Power boats came up next. It seems that in various Long Island and New Jersey ports there are a lot of high-speed boats that can be bought for very low prices—in many instances the prospect being allowed to name his own price. Some of the boats bear bullet marks. But their engines are in excellent condition. They are the contact boats that brought in the liquor from supply ships lying outside the 12-mile limit. And they are on the market because Rum Row has ceased to exist.

In that connection, one of the members of the party voiced what to me was an interesting observation. He was born and brought up on Long Island and a number of his former playmates later became captains of liquor boats. He holds that even if Rum Row were still in existence, those captains wouldn't handle liquor. During prohibition, they didn't feel that they were breaking any law. But it's different now. Incidentally, those captains, adept at dodging coast guard cutters, used to make as much in one night as they do in a month of fishing now.

Leaving the high seas, the dry land incident of a New Jersey motorist came up. He parked in a place where the limit is one hour. Returning at the end of two hours, he found a ticket on his car. Not knowing exactly what to do about the matter, he examined the souvenir of the law. The name of the officer who issued it seemed familiar. So he looked him up and discovered that he was his cousin. That led to what-a-small-world-this-really-is conversation—and the destruction of the ticket.

Subway conversational titbits: "Two just got back from Bermuda." "What'd you do, drive down?"

Turkey Is Giving Women Freedom of Street Cars

Istanbul.—The last outward sign of the old regime which sheltered women from public view in Turkey will disappear shortly when the municipality gives definite expression to the resolution to abolish the two rows of seats in the street cars reserved for women.

The assignment of special seats to Turkish women on ships and trains originally aimed at the seduction of Moslem women from the other sex. Heavy curtains in the street cars have separated the two first rows from the rest for that purpose. After the reform this separation was suppressed both on ships and railways, having lost its raison d'être, but it has persisted on the street cars, where the special seats remained even after the curtains had been removed.

Damned Waters to Cover Site of Old Ohio Town

Ashland, Ohio.—Nothing but the memory of Cuyahoga, one of Ashland county's oldest settlements, will remain in a few months.

The site of the town will be covered by the rising waters of the vast Pymatung reservoir whose dam, now being built, will flood parts of counties in both Ohio and Pennsylvania. Buildings in the village have already been razed for the inundation. The town in its heyday boasted a women's club, a blacksmith shop, shoe shop, harness shop, a general store and several houses.

Big Increase Shown In Tax Collections

Largest Increase in New Floor and Processing Taxes With Tax on Distilled Spirits Second—Largest Increase in Income Tax.

With only five days remaining in which to file income taxes the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington closed its books for the six months between July 1, 1933, and January 1, 1934, and found its total collections for that period amounted to $1,197,950,474.10, which is an increase of $566,708,661.05 over the corresponding period of last year, according to figures recently released by Commissioner Guy T. Helvering.

The income tax showed the largest decrease for the last six months. While individual income taxes picked up $23,889,038.81, there was a drop in the corporation income taxes of $50,769,525.46, making a total decrease of that field of collections of more than 28 million dollars.

The largest increase was shown in the new floor and processing taxes which brought into the Federal treasury $183,875,661.35 during the first six months period, and the new tax on distilled spirits, ran second with a total of $116,167,813.27.

All other fields of tax revenue showed general increases. The tobacco industry boosted its revenue to the government by $15,583,948.12, while the stamp taxes went up $10,619,990.58. The manufacturers' excise tax showed a heavy increase of $106,851,143.24 during the same six month period, and miscellaneous taxes benefitted the Treasury $8,321,098.13 more in the past half year than in the corresponding time last year.

It is significant to note that some of the items which dropped behind in their tax yield during the past six months were, besides corporation income taxes, small cigars, chewing and smoking tobacco, cigarette papers and tubes, stamp taxes on bonds of indebtedness, issues of capital stock, deeds of conveyance, etc., use of yachts and boats, brewers' wort, malt, grape concentrates, etc., articles made of fur, admissions to theatres, concerts, etc., club dues and initiation fees, collections on account of prohibition enforcement, and a few other miscellaneous items.

For the month of January, this year, in comparison with January of last year, the most outstanding decrease in Federal revenue came from the drop in the income tax which

A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Twenty years as private secretary to United States senators before he became sergeant-at-arms of the senate have taught Charles W. Jurney of Texas much about senatorial dignity and austerity.

He was all prepared, therefore, when the senate ordered him to go out and find William P. MacCracken, Jr., assistant secretary of commerce in charge of aeronautics under President Hoover, and bring him before that body on a charge of contempt.

Jurney could have had someone else do the job had he wished. None of the senate employees, him to appoint special deputies for such tasks, but he elected to do it in person.

It's not often such an opportunity befalls a sergeant-at-arms of the senate. Most of his time is spent in more or less routine on the senate side of the capital. He is the senate's major-domo.

Dressing Up His Job

Jurney has brought a new meaning to his title, however, since he left the employ of Senator Copeland of New York last March to become sergeant-at-arms. For sartorial elegance and dignified demeanor he compares favorably with any senator.

His frock coat is as impressive as that of Ashurst of Arizona. His choice of cravat is as distinctive as that of McNary of Oregon.

When the late Capitol Hill inquest of MacCracken he was in a black morning coat and gray striped trousers, a black high-top hat was on his head and a red carnation in his buttonhole.

Earlier in the day Senator McAdoo had had a bunch of movie stars as his luncheon guests at the capitol and had asked Jurney to show them around. Since he had been impeccably attired for this occasion, the MacCracken incident fitted in perfectly.

Knows Ins And Outs

Jurney boasts he has been congressional continuously with congress for 16 years. For six years he served as secretary to a member of the house before moving over to the senate.

For 10 years he was with Senator Calhoun of Texas, serving also as clerk of the senate committee on the judiciary for six years during democratic control under Woodrow Wilson. He was Senator Copeland's secretary for 10 years.

In 1932 he made a bid for political office in his own right by running as a candidate at large for the house in Texas. He was defeated, but not before his "hand wagon"—a truck equipped with the latest in political campaign equipment—had traveled from the Sabine river to the Panhandle.

Backache and Kidneys

THE kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating the poisons from the blood. Their signals of distress are backache, frequent getting up at night, drowsiness, headaches, perspiration. This is the time to take that new discovery of Dr. Pierce's called "Anuric." Read what Mrs. Pauline Cramer of 31 Kohler St., Tompkins, N. Y., says: "My kidneys acted too freely. My back ached from morning until night and every time I stooped over I would get a 'catch' across my kidneys that fairly took my breath away. Less than one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Anuric tablets drove away the backache and made my kidneys act in a normal way."

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package of Anuric.

Ancients Fried Walnuts

The white walnut was highly esteemed by the Persians of ancient times; they used it in trading with other countries where it was accepted with equally great regard. The Greeks sang of its delicate flavor, and the Romans called it the "Nut of the Gods."

"DON'T LET ANYBODY TELL YOU THAT RUNNING AN OFFICE DOESN'T TAKE HEALTHY NERVES, TOO, MR. JAFFEE"

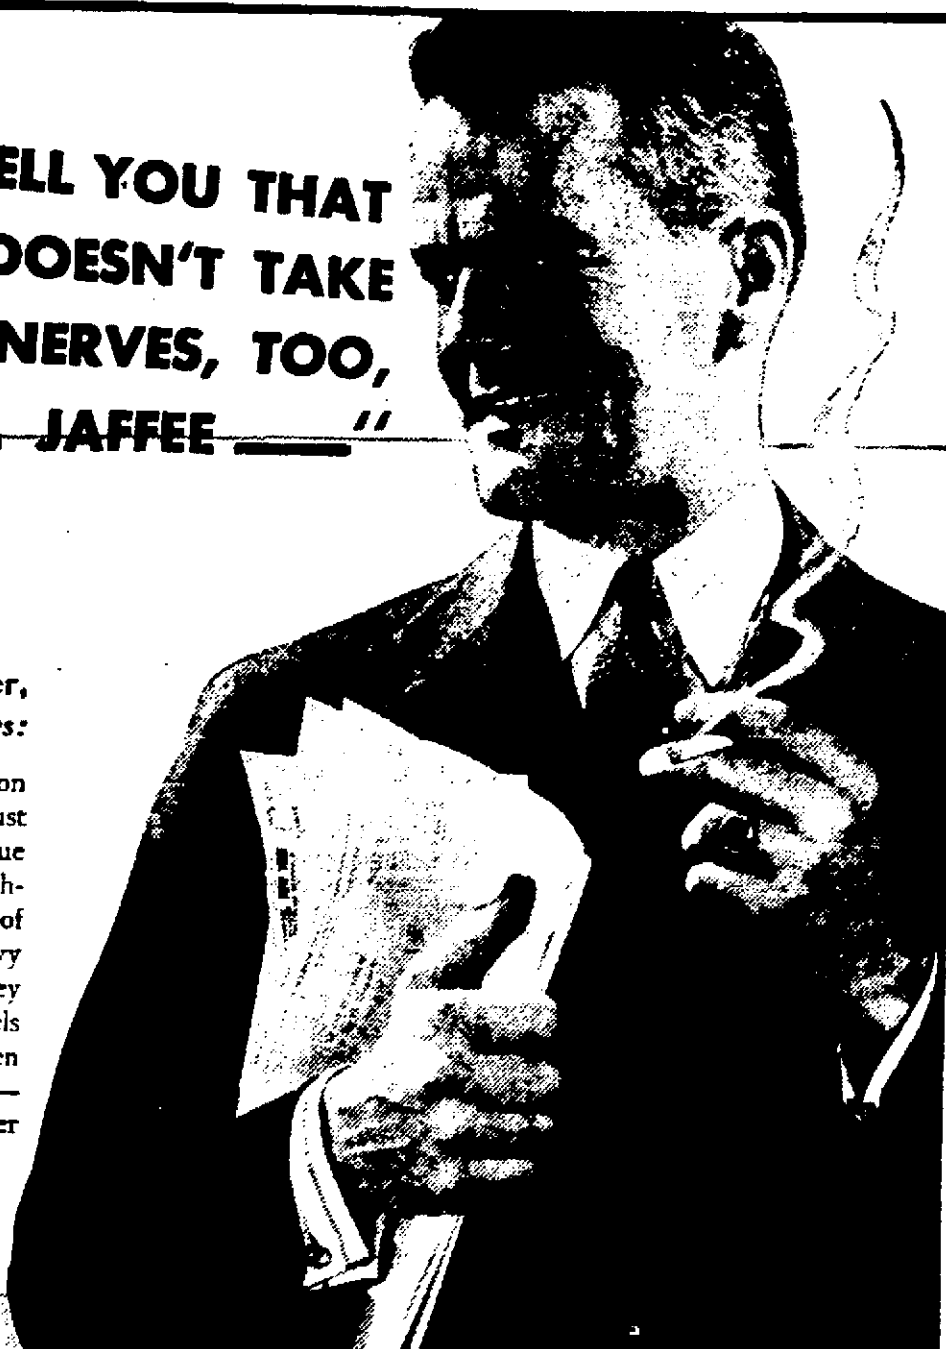

Irving Jaffee, Olympic Speed Skating Champion, says:

"It takes healthy nerves and plenty of wind to be an Olympic skating champion. I find that Camels, because of their costlier tobaccos, are mild and likable in taste. And, what is even more important to a champion athlete, they never upset the nerves."

John W. Grout, Office Manager, who hails from Detroit, Mich., says:

"I can see how an Olympic champion speed skater needs healthy nerves, but just let me say something here that is also true—a man can't handle a tough office job without healthy nerves, either. Many hours of nagging details and the pressure of a heavy load of work tell on the nerves, if they are inclined to be 'jumpy.' I smoke Camels steadily... all day long... and I never even have to think of nerves. As for taste—Camels have the finest flavor I have ever known."

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Sooner or later today most of us come face to face with jangled nerves.

If nerves are a problem with you, now is the time to check up on all habits that may affect them—your eating, your sleeping, your recreation. And get a fresh slant on your smoking by trying Camels. Much is heard about tobacco quality, so always remember this:

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

Note the way "edgy" nerves become a thing of the past. You can smoke more than ever, without a sign of "cigarette" aftertaste. You'll be delighted to find that Camel's costlier tobaccos do make a difference—to your taste, and to your nerves!

Figuring the Skirt While Skirting the Figure

The practical sports skirt at the left is in white soft tweed with black crossbar check. It has metal slide fasteners across both pockets and a deep kick pleat in the front.
At the right another selfbelt skirt has creased insets over each knee for slight fullness. It is done in many colors, among them a mixture green tweed.

Make Way for Bracelets

New York—Sleeves cover the upper part of the arm, sometimes stopping just above the elbow, sometimes just below. In general, extravagant sleeve treatments have been abandoned by the haute couture.
The conventional simple, straight sleeve, cut off a few inches above the elbow, is used; likewise the slightly draped or gathered sleeves mentioned previously are much in evidence; these usually tightened in again at their lower edge. Coats with shoulder capelets and no sleeves, or short capelet sleeves, or slightly full sleeves stopping a few inches above the wrist, are all to be found.

The London Label

New York—Many reminiscences of the ensemble are to be found, not only among smart collections, but in all the shops. The redingote seems to lead the field in the dress that wants a merger of plain and printed fabrics. Not that all redingotes are obliging enough to follow this rule, for some ignore prints. Still it is the more general treatment.

The coat versus suit controversy is always to be relied upon for discussion at this season. There are suits of so many sorts that it's a wise woman who makes her selection according to her own needs.

Today we show a full-length coat, and while that is unusual in coat lengths this spring, there will always be a niche in every well-balanced wardrobe for an all-encompassing coat. Obviously, the reason so many three-quarter or seven-eighth length coats are shown is because dress lengths cannot be depended upon to be consistent, let alone uniform. So the distracted coat designer solves the problem by introducing coats that make no pretense of falling in line with any of the dresses with which they must fraternize.

Today's coat is London made, just for the sake of a change in a world agog over French fashions. English tailormade, and certain English coats, topcoats especially, are apt to be good. This one is a bit more formal than is customary from London, but it has such an original collar treatment, and is so outstanding that—well, here it is.

All Ruffled

New York—Ruffles continue all-important in the silhouette of evening gowns—about half of them use ruffles in one form or another, single or in tiers or piled up on top of each other, either on the shoulders, at the décolletage, or on the skirt.

The ruffles vary from the very full, crushed up flower type which appears in sheer and fluffy fabrics or in organdie, to the only moderately circular ones which are used on the satin gowns.

FROM LONDON

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

The forward movement of the collar is emphasized in this coat. The collar is formed by a double fabric band wired to stand out around the face and represents a departure from the high necklines which have been so much featured in this market until the past few weeks.

You ought to know the Browns

MAYBE you don't know the Browns. They're a little family of four. There's Jim Brown, who sells life insurance, and Betty Brown—who was a Jones before she married Jim. And there are the two Brown children: Jim, Jr., and Griselda.

Like a thousand other families, the Browns are just starting to lift themselves out of the count-every-penny circumstances which the past few years imposed on them. But they have one advantage.

Betty Brown studied economics during that time. She didn't enroll at the University. She didn't take a special home-course by mail. She learned a great deal about buying from her daily newspaper.

She followed the advertisements. She compared price and quality, and struck a practical balance between the two. Today she knows how to buy so that Jim's bank account can begin to grow again. And she hasn't got pinch-nosed by doing it. In fact, one of the Browns' greatest delights is planning the weekly shopping tour. They virtually make a game of it, and always a profitable game.

You ought to know the Browns. They haven't the money they once had. But it won't be long before they do. And in the meantime, they're living well!

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 12 (AP).—Financial markets moved at a snail-like pace today as most traders and investors showed no disposition to relax their recent attitude of caution.

Dullness in stocks was pronounced during the early hours. With few exceptions, leading equities held to a slim groove. Some of the utilities, which have been lagging noticeably, firmed moderately.

Silver and rubber futures again moved up, but grains were sluggish. Cotton was fairly steady. International dollar rates registered only slight changes. Bonds just about held their own, although the ac-

Walker Will Return, He Says, As a Lawyer

London, March 12 (AP).—Former Mayor James J. Walker, denying that he ever ducked income taxes, announced that he plans to go home and practice law.

A bit of the old Walkerian nonchalance cropped out in a statement with which the New Yorker greeted news that the United States is moving to sue him, Andrew W. Mellon and others for income taxes.

"Even in this doubtful position," he said yesterday, "I am glad to be in the same hat with Mr. Andrew Mellon."

Walker, who is stopping at a Surrey Hills hotel with his wife, the former Betty Compton, said he was "not altogether surprised."

"It is now nearly two years since the American authorities decided that my income tax return was incorrect," he said.

"They spent three months investigating my financial position, both privately and in my capacity as a public man. They found nothing in either case that would enable them to bring a charge of tax evasion against me."

He said he welcomed the tax action "as an opportunity of vindicating my character."

When his health allows, he said, he will return to America to "continue my profession as a lawyer."

PREDICT INCREASE IN RAIL TRAVEL THIS YEAR

A material increase in the volume of rail travel this spring and next summer was predicted today by L. W. Landman, general passenger traffic manager of the New York Central Lines.

"All indications are," said Mr. Landman, "that more people will be traveling this year than for some years past. Our passenger revenue for January and February exceeds that for the first two months of last year and forecasts the trend. Lower fares in many sections of the country, improved accommodations, such as air-conditioned cars, the gain in population, including the farmers, and the depreciation of the dollar, together with the second edition of the World's Fair, which will be even more elaborate and spectacular than the original fair, all will tend to promote rail travel."

MT. TREMPER

Mt. Tremper, March 12.—On Friday evening, March 9, a mothers' meeting was held at the Mt. Tremper schoolhouse. The purpose of this meeting was to see if there were enough mothers interested to organize a Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. A. E. Weber, the trustee, spoke to the gathering and told what she thought the Parent-Teacher Association would do for the school. It was suggested that one familiar with the association's work be asked to address the group on an early date, and to organize on that occasion. Those interested are: Miss F. Murphy, teacher; Mrs. Norman Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Gardner, Mrs. Frank Carle, Mrs. Bjarne Hansen, Mrs. John Zanner, Mrs. Waldo Becker and the trustee, Mrs. A. E. Weber. It was reported that Mrs. Harris Smith also is interested, but was unable to attend, due to the illness of her father. All parents are urged to attend the next meeting, which will be announced in a few days, even if their children are under the school age.

A pleasant evening was spent at the Grange entertainment and card party on Friday, March 9. The committee in charge presented "Slim Lou" a shadow act. Those who took part were: Mrs. Burton Gardner, Miss Gussie Lane, Reese Smith, Jr., Louis Lane, Frank Carle and George Byron. Refreshments were served and the usual fun-making lasted until after midnight. Sister Mrs. Frank Barringer of Shokan and Brother Edward Lane of Lanesville were reported ill. Members are reminded to send a word of good cheer to those good patrons and to the worthy lecturer, Sister Zanner, a note of sympathy upon the death of her father on Saturday evening. Next regular Grange meeting will be held on Friday, March 16, when lecturer's hour will be in charge of the "Dobbin Hollow" folk.

Committee Seeks Information on City

The committee on industrial survey of the city of Kingston, formed a week or so ago at a meeting called by Mayor Heilmann, is anxious to secure information as soon as possible regarding any available factory buildings, or buildings that might be suitable for manufacturing purposes.

The committee is anxious to get busy at the earliest possible moment in its work of trying to induce new industries to locate in Kingston, but can make no headway until more definite information is at hand regarding what the city has to offer in the matter of accommodations.

The late Chamber of Commerce had a certain amount of such information, but what data it had is now out of date.

The committee desires to know what buildings suitable for factory purposes are available, with their location, dimensions, including size of floor space, rental price, etc.

Arthur L. Colligan of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation has agreed to receive and compile any information of this nature that may be sent to him. Mr. Colligan will then turn over the information to City Clerk Dempsey at the city hall, who will be in a position to answer inquiries on the part of concerns seeking a new location.

JUDGE ADEL DELAYED FOR COURT SESSION

Judge Adel was delayed by bad going on his trip up from the city this morning to resume sessions of Supreme Court and it was 11:30 when he called court to order. As it turned out, however, he need not have hurried as the call of the calendar showed no cases ready for trial. The jury men were excused till 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and court adjourned until that time.

A day calendar was made up of the following cases: Nos. 4, 21, 37, 39, 62, 63, 67, (75, 77), 76, 83, 88, (85, 96).

NEGROES ON RAMPAGE GETS 30 DAYS IN JAIL

Goetzle Dawson, 32, negro, went on the rampage Sunday afternoon at the Dawson gas station on the Saugerties road, smashed a big window and otherwise behaved so that it was necessary for Sergeant Cunningham and Trooper Senecal to take her in charge. She was brought to the county jail and this morning was arraigned before Justice Walter Webber on a charge of disorderly conduct. The judge sent her back to jail for 30 days.

PHOENICIA

Phoenicia, March 12.—The many friends of Clare Simpson are glad she has so far recovered that she is able to leave the Benedictine Hospital, where she was operated on for mastoids, and has come home for convalescing.

Floyd Kinsey enjoyed mountain climbing Thursday.

The main on High street is not yet thawed out and several families are still carrying water.

Mumps have come over the horizon, but it doesn't seem they can find many new recruits as so many had them a couple of years ago.

Miss Harriet Loomis was a M. Pleasant caller Sunday evening.

Quite a number are having a touch of sore throat. Some have had it quite severe.

The familiar figure of A. Neal, who died last week, will be missed from the village life. His two sisters having died, he lived alone in the Elvey homestead. He was a member of the M. E. Church and one who was faithful in its service. He died at the home of his nephew, H. Neal, in Lanesville.

G. Baldwin was a Chichester caller Friday.

Birds are heard now but the snow silenced the early arrivals—the scout crow that signals his outlook duty over the hills, hasn't been heard so far this year. He is waiting for settled weather conditions.

Memorial For Treaty

Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 12 (AP).—Plans were launched today for building with CWA funds a memorial to the Rush-Bagot treaty of 1812 which limited armaments on the Great Lakes and brought complete disarmament of the Canadian-American border. Dedication of the memorial will be part of an international celebration, August 31-24. Word of CWA approval of the memorial project was forwarded last night by United States Senator Royal S. Copeland.

Roadside Dispersed

Madrid, March 12 (AP).—Police dispersed groups of radicals in a hand-to-hand battle today when the extremists attempted to overturn streetcars in the Las Duncas and General districts of the capital. Several were arrested. It was the first serious outbreak of strikers which extremists have done throughout Spain. In Madrid, the most serious aspect of the strike today was the suspension of work by Allied Printing Trade workers.

Many Plan to Attend Shrine Circus in Albany

The Kingston Shrine Association inadvertently made a slight error in their advertisement appearing in Saturday's issue by stating that the Shrine Circus at Albany would be for the entire week of March 12 to 15. It should have read for the entire week of March 12 to 17.

The circus opened this afternoon in the large arena, Washington at Lark street, Albany, with over 1,000 happy children of Albany and vicinity in attendance, who were the guests of the Shrine.

A number of Kingstonians are planning on attending the circus this evening and before the week is over a large number from this section will have traveled to Albany for this event.

Mystery Dwarfs of Santo

There is in the dense inland forests of Santo, the largest island in the New Hebrides, a race of dwarfs who are the smallest people on earth. The pygmies of the Congo forests discovered by Stanley in 1887 average about four feet in height, notes a writer in the Montreal Herald, but the average stature of the Santo dwarfs is only three feet six inches, judging by the few specimens seen and measured by white men.

Hardly anything is known of their mode of living, as they haunt forest fastnesses. To follow them would be to court death, for they impregnate the tips of their thin arrows, projected through blowpipes, with some unknown vegetable poison. It is so deadly that the slightest scratch from one speedsily proves fatal. Moreover, these little people are intensely hostile to strangers and shoot them on sight.

The more civilized natives, dwelling along the seashore, assert that they are cannibals.

Ethnologists are trying to discover how the Santo dwarfs managed to reach their present home. For they are an inland-dwelling race; true for pygmies. They own no canoes and have no knowledge of navigation. Yet obviously they have come from some other part of the tropics, for in features they are similar to the African pygmies and quite unlike the Melanesian peoples by whom they are surrounded.

Southern Arabia Yields Incense, Myrrh and Aloe

Few of the present day know even the name of this land. Yet once it was rich, with a highly developed culture. One of the highroads of the Old World, the trade-route from India and Persia to Egypt and Syria, and to the other countries around the Mediterranean, ran through Hadramaut (southern coast of the Arabian peninsula); and it supplied its own fragrant contribution to that ancient world commerce—a contribution not great in extent, but vast in significance, says a writer in the National Geographic Magazine.

Incense trees grew along the barren, rocky plateaus and in the scorching heat of the wadies (dry river beds). And was to him who, unaided, tried to collect the valuable product, for, sooner or later, he perished from thirst and exhaustion.

The gathering of incense, myrrh and aloe remained a work for those trained in the hard and difficult art of traveling over the endless plains of stone, and through the wadies, with their perpendicular walls and deadly heat that drives man to despair. These products of wondrous odor, destined for the service of God and the dead, carry with them something of the mystery of their land of origin.

Norse Sons Have It

Discovery near Lake Winnipeg, in Canada, of a Norse rune stone dated in the fourteenth century revived dispute over Scandinavian claims that Norsemen not only discovered America long before Columbus, but penetrated far into the continent with expeditions and settlements. This theory had its rise in discovery of a similar rune stone in Minnesota some thirty years ago, says the San Francisco Chronicle. This discovery was greeted by skeptics as a fake. Much plausible evidence has been presented by both supporters and opponents of the Nordic claim, as well as by others who uphold the theory that Asiatic pre-Amerindians in American discovery, this apart from evidence that the American Indians did not spring from the soil, but came by way of Bering Straits.

Very Old City in Bolivia

When the Spaniards entered the region now known as Bolivia they found a very old city, Tiwanaco, near Lake Titicaca. The huge stone blocks of the buildings were held in place with great silver and copper staples. These they prized these metal staples loose and carried them off, leaving the massive walls to topple. It is difficult to judge the age of the city.

The ancient Tiwanacans used a sun dial and a German scientist and astronomer has made calculations to determine how far the axis of the earth has shifted since their sun dial stood in its proper relation to the poles. At first he used a formula adopted by the French Society of Astronomers, and he obtained 12,000 years as the city's age.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Master James Fox of Philadelphia is expected to play at the club at 8:30 and see him at the club at 10:30.

It is expected that there will be a crowd at both places to see the "shark" who is one of the greatest exhibition players today. Rudolph is one of the world's best players for control and speed. Rudolph is also a master of fancy and trick shots and will display his talent at them tonight.

What He'd Be Worth.
But if Ruth is worth $35,000 a season in his present state of fragility, and Lou Gehrig is worth $25,000, Chuck Klein $22,000, Wally Piker $18,000, and so on, how can you depreciate Fox's value?

He'd make close to an American League champion of the Boston Red Sox, for one thing, and a pennant winner in that village would be worth in one season, close to half a million dollars to Tom Yawkey.

Consider the difference Jimmie would make in the New York Yankees, playing third base, say, with Gehrig on first, Tony Lazzeri on second, and Red Rolfe a shortstop. He'd mean a pennant there, and in New York that's a cool $500,000.

If Connie Mack were to toss Jimmie into the open market and ask for bids, it's an even bet that the fellow who finally got the prize would have to go as high as $300,000.

A Long-Range Prediction.
Fox doesn't want to quit baseball. He doesn't want to miss a single game or a day of spring training. But he'd like to know what future there is in baseball for him if he can only muster $11,000 for one season in his prime.

"I've got maybe 40 more years to earn my living," he says. "At the best I'll be in baseball 10 more years. That's going to be 30 years in which I'm going to have to be doing something else anyway. I can't get ready for those days on that kind of a salary. So hadn't I better get started planning right now?"

That's a fair question. But of course when the ball season opens Athletics will be at first base for the 1934 season. He'll get more than $11,000. In 1935 he'll be playing with the Red Sox.

Just as Mack sold Simmons, Dykes and Hase to the White Sox two years ago to recoup his losses, and Earnshaw, Grove, Cochrane, Bishop and Walberg this year, so will he peddle Fox next winter to the highest bidder.

Then Connie will step right out of baseball.

Another Reconstruction Adventure For Connie Mack

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor

Fort Myers, Fla., March 12 (AP)—The impression that a flock of earnest young athletes named "Joe" are trying to plug the big gaps in the varsity lineup of the Athletics this year is rapidly being dissipated.

Clustered around the tall, spare and gray-haired figure of baseball's patriarch, Connie Mack, are a range of hard hitting group of players headed by the great Jimmie Fox and a youthful pitching staff that includes some real possibilities despite a notable lack of big league experience.

For Mack it's another great adventure in reconstruction. The busy figure of the home run king, Fox, in camp today for the first time after ending his holdout siege, is the only other real reminder of the last of the tall tutor's championship teams. Conspicuously absent for the first time in a decade are the broad-shouldered aggressive Mickey Cochrane, now the pilot of the Detroit Tigers, and the pitching "Big Three," Walberg, Earnshaw and Grove.

"Grove and Cochrane are the men we will miss most," says Mack. "The others were no longer any real help to us. I've got some real promising young pitchers but it's impossible to predict how they will come through. Our catching, too, is uncertain now with Mickey gone but otherwise I think we have a strong club."

Encouragement for Cochrane
"We will get some real hitting and we have some fine young players in both infield and outfield. I think we will be in the race this year because there's a better balance of power among the clubs in the American League than we have had for several seasons. The Senators are very good but teams like the Tigers and Red Sox are so much stronger that it will not be easy for any club to stay on top. I would not be surprised to see Cochrane's Tigers win the pennant."

For the first time in years, Mack will not even have a rookie southpaw, much less a seasoned portlander, to carry on the traditions of Waddell, Plank, Grove and Walberg. So far as front line experience is concerned, he has only two real holdovers, Merritt (Sugar) Cain, the broad-shouldered Georgian, and Roy Mahaffey. The best prospects otherwise for starting jobs include John Marcum, the pride of Enid, Kentucky; Bill Dietrich, recalled from Montreal; E. J. (Tim) McKeethan, a former collegian who has shown great promise, and Harry Matuzak, from Oklahoma City.

Likes Cascarella
Joe Cascarella, from Jersey City, also has caught Mack's eye. He will give thorough tests to young Al Benton and Vernon Kennedy, the former Decaturian star, both from Oklahoma City. Bob Kline, who came from the Red Sox, broke an elbow ice skating this winter is not yet available.

The run producing strength of the Athletics will have to work over time to offset the uncertain outlook in the battery department. There's speed and punch in the outfield, consisting of Bob Johnson, the fleet Roger Cramer and slugging Ed Coleman.

Lou Finney and the veteran Bing Miller are in reserve. Ray Radcliffe, obtained from St. Paul, may need more seasoning.

The Infield
Fox, the cornerstone of the club's attack, will have Bib Williams at second, Eric McNair at short and Pinky Higgins at third as his infield mates. Higgins, the last of the holdouts, has not yet reported and George Detore, from Toledo, is filling the gap temporarily. Higgins led the league's third basemen last year and he is needed to round out one of the ablest and hardest hitting infields in either league. "Rabbit" Warfield, formerly with the Red Sox, has the utility role.

(Tomorrow, New York Giants.)

FOUR HIGH SCHOOLS BEGIN DRILLS IN CHAMPIONSHIP
Troy, N. Y., March 12 (AP)—Having clinched the pennants in their respective divisions, four school basketball teams today began a week of strenuous practice in preparation for the Northeastern New York Public High School Championships here Friday and Saturday.

The successful quintets are those representing Amsterdam High School, Western Division; Nutt Terrace High of Schoenectady, Southern; Cohoes High, Eastern; and Granville High, Northern.

Training Camp Brisk

(By The Associated Press.)

Avalon, Calif., March 12 (AP)—Feeling that the weather baseball may make it to be players this season, Manager Charles Combs of the Chicago Cubs is making a habit of training the new players.

The Cubs have only 24 men on the squad, one more than the limit which becomes effective May 15. One hand will be seen, and Combs at first planned on letting a pitcher go under his own name Adolph Camilli, first baseman probably will be released.

Phillies.
Winter Haven, Fla.—Bating and infield practice are on in earnest at the Phillies' training camp while the pitchers enjoy comparative ease.

Describing yesterday's drill as "the best we have had in a week," Manager Jimmy Wilson said "My pitchers have rounded into shape perfectly."

Red Sox.
Sarasota, Fla.—What—no table tennis? There will be an outfit installed at the Boston Red Sox training quarters today for the use of Max Baer.

Dodgers.
Olando, Fla.—Maybe Mack Wilson's hold-out campaign against the Brooklyn Dodgers' front office isn't so serious after all.

Hack wired the club he'd be late reporting to camp because of the illness of his son, thereby indicating he was just about ready to come to terms.

Yankees.
St. Petersburg, Fla.—The first bad news of the New York Yankees spring training campaign gives Manager Joe McCarthy some additional pitching worries.

Trainer "Doc" Painter reports that it will be a month before Russ Van Atta, clearer southpaw, will regain full control of his left hand, injured in a fire at his home during the winter.

Giants.
Miami Beach, Fla.—What a difference a few months have made to Manager Bill Terry of the New York Giants.

"This time last year I was wondering where I was going to get some ball players," said Bill. "Now I'm wondering what I'm going to do with 'em all."

Athletics.
Fort Myers, Fla.—Trailing two to one in their five-game series, the Philadelphia Athletics play host to the New York Giants today and tomorrow.

The presence of Jimmy Fox in the lineup failed to save them from a 10-2 drubbing at Miami Beach yesterday, but the A's are not discouraged.

Braves.
St. Petersburg, Fla.—It's hard to believe that Walter James Vincent Maraville—more familiarly the Rabbit—will be 43 years old next Anniversary Day.

He arrived at the Boston Braves training camp yesterday all set for another season. He will play in more than 100 games this season, shattering Honus Wagner's record for playing the greatest number of big league games.

Pirates.
Paso Robles, Calif.—The box score, true harbinger of spring has made its appearance in the training camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates—a happy harbinger.

In their first exhibition game of the season, the Pirates yesterday defeated Portland of the Pacific Coast League, 5 to 2, before 1,500 fans.

Senators.
Biloxi, Miss.—Battersmen of the Washington Senators had their batting practice session in store today after breaking the Sabbath quiet yesterday with the crack of hickory on horsehide. The rest of the squad reports this week.

Cards.
Bradenton, Fla.—Paul (Harpo) Dean signed his 1934 contract with the Cardinals here yesterday after pitching camp in Sam Breadon's hotel rooms and battling back contract adjectives as fast as they were pitched. It lasted an hour or so and ended in a draw. Salary terms were not disclosed.

West Hurley Five Defeats Holy Name

At Woodstock Saturday, the West Hurley Y. C. C. defeated the basketball team of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, 38-31, despite the presidency of Stenson at sinking fields for 18 points. Saxe made 11 for West Hurley.

Individual scores:
West Hurley Y. C. C.—Harder 6, Berry 2, King 1, Nussbaum 4, Saxe 11, Vredenburg 8, O'Riley 4, total 38.
St. Mary's Holy Name—Coughlin 5, Carano 6, Stenson 18, McDermott 2, total 31.

Score at end of first half—12-10, St. Mary's leading. Fouls committed—West Hurley 5, St. Mary's 6. Referee, Britt; timekeeper, C. Layman; times of halves, 20 minutes.

Kendall Oilmen Trim Comforter Seniors, 52-29

Saturday night at Comforter Hall where they recently defeated the Seniors owed to the Kendall Oilmen, 52-29, the victory setting an early lead and boding a thorough out the battle.

At the end of the first quarter the score was 17-2, the smaller number being scored by the Seniors on two goals, while Johnny Zeeb of the Kendall Oilmen, on four goals and a field goal, led the Kendall Oilmen to a 25-17 lead at the end of the second quarter. The Comforters came through with some long shots, that helped them to boost their standing. The score at the intermission was Kendall 25, Seniors 17.

In the third quarter, the Kendall Oilmen went on another scoring spree, led by "Chips" Rhymers, who made 5 markers on four fields. During the same period, Scoline caged a sensational long shot from scrimmage that saved the fans a thrill.

Leading point-makers for the Oilmen were Zeeb and Rhymers, who cleaned 17 and 15 respectively. Ad Stumpf showed the way for the Comforters with 11.

Tonight the Kendalls are scheduled to return to St. Mary's Hall, Referee, Blass.

Rosendale Loses 2nd Game In Cage Series To Ridgers

Bruised, battered and tired from their gruelling contest against Jack Troy's Luckies at White Eagle Hall, Friday, which they lost, 28-29, the Rosendale Firemen fell easy prey to the Stone Ridge team Saturday night in the second game of the Ulster county professional basketball championship series at Rosendale, 22-32.

Starting like worn out soldiers returning to battle too soon, the Rosendale dropped behind the Poultrymen in the first quarter, collecting only one point to eight, registered by the team piloted by Pete Bruck. At the half, Stone Ridge led 10-6.

During the third quarter the Firemen made their stiffest fight and came at one time within four points of tying the score. But the Brucks added pressure, flashing a superior brand of passing and shooting, to stay the rally and win by the margin of 10 points.

"Bun" Chilson collected 14 points, the highest individual tally for Stone Ridge, playing against Jimmy Merritt, whom he held to 6. The battle between these two cagers furnished a big attraction for the fans, who also took much interest in the duel between the centers, "Woody" Wood of Stone Ridge and Hank Krum of Rosendale. "Woody" made 6 points, while Krum 3, the Ridger doing his best work in the second half during which he outjumped Hank as well as showing greater proficiency at caging the leather.

The third contest of the pro series, and the second for each of the two teams playing, will be at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls, Wednesday night between Pete Bruck's Stone Ridge quintet and the Luckies. It is expected that there will be a capacity crowd to the tilt, the first of the title race to be staged at High Falls, home court of the Poultrymen.

Amateurs Would Be Better Than the Pros

Former French Tennis Professional Believes Two Best Amateurs Could Defeat Two Best Pros In Open Tournament.

New York, March 12 (AP)—Paul Feret, a member of Suzanne Lenglen's touring troupe of professionals in 1926, but now again an amateur, entered in the current U. S. indoor tennis championships, believes "the two best amateurs" would prevail over "the two best pros" in an open tournament.

The Black-thatched Frenchman selects as the two outstanding amateurs, Fred Perry, of England, holder of the U. S. singles title, and Jack Crawford, of Australia, winner of the 1933 Wimbledon and French championships. At the top of the pro he ranks William T. Tilden, and H. Ellsworth Vines.

None of the seeded favorites faced serious opposition in today's second round championship matches. The defending champion, Gregory Mantel, was paired with Lieke R. N. Watt, Jr., of New York, Jean Borotra, of France, was matched with Ernest Krosan, New York, Frank X. Shields, No. 1 ranking American, opposed E. H. Burns, Sr., New York. Lester Stofen, the rangy Californian, played the winner of the postponed Feret-Irving Raymond match, and Christian Bousquet, young French star, was pitted against Morris Adelsberg, Cornell University.

Honey Bear
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
Honey Bear sat in her cage holding the two little cubs, Blacky and Jumpy, in her arms. It did not matter to her that at 10 p. m. they had no food on their bodies. She thought they were beautiful.

It did not matter to them that they could not see their mother because their eyes were still closed. They could feel how she loved them, and they felt the warmth and the comfort of her love.

Jelly Bear was off having meals of fish and sap and delicate little roots. But, although he ate a great deal, he remembered to bring back meals to Honey Bear.

He had just gone away again and now Honey Bear was singing lullabies to the cubs.

"Dear little cubs, I love you so: It won't take long for you to grow. Blacky and Jumpy—both so sweet. My babies, you are such a treat."

"Dear little cubs, sleep sweetly my dears. Never need you have any fears. For you are safe in Honey Bear's arms. 'Till dawn, when you see and any alarm."

"Dear little cubs, your mother loves you. I am sure that each of you knows it too. So hush, cubs, and rest in this cave. And later on you'll be big and brave."

Honey Bear felt sleepy too after slugging to the cubs, and soon she was asleep, dreaming of the days ahead when the cubs would follow her out-of-doors and she would teach them the lessons all bears must learn.

They would have to know which berries were poisonous and which were not. Oh, there would be lots for them to study. But they would learn quickly.

Tomorrow—"The Great Excitement!"

CWA Supervisor Shot By Workman Today

Alleged Assassin Is in a Schenectady Hospital After Shooting in Which He Was Fatally Wounded—Said to Have Been Quarreling With Director.

Schenectady, N. Y., March 12 (AP)—Joseph Richardson, 35, supervisor of Civilian War Administration work in the town of Chilton Park, Saratoga County, was fatally wounded today during an argument with a worker who later shot and critically wounded himself.

The alleged assailant, Alphonse Lanch, 30, is in Ellis Hospital here with only a slight chance for recovery.

The argument occurred at Viscor's Ferry, a hamlet east of here on the Mohawk river, as Richardson, married and the father of three children, was giving instructions for the day's work.

Lynch, who authorities said had been quarreling with Richardson, was suddenly whipped out a revolver. He shot Richardson three times, one of the bullets piercing the heart.

Walking out of the building while fellow workers stood by, stunned and powerless to act, Lynch stroled into a store a few doors away, and shot himself twice. He collapsed, unconscious, and was removed to the Schenectady Hospital.

State police and Saratoga county authorities immediately started an investigation.

Lynch is married and the father of four small children.

The shooting took place in a garage in the rear of Richardson's home, from which he had been directing CWA activities this winter.

The teletype machine in police headquarters this morning carried two tragic tales. The first was to the effect that Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock two men were seen walking across the ice fields in the Hudson river at West Point and suddenly they disappeared from view, having fallen into a hole in the ice.

Identification of the men was not ascertained at the time the message was received today.

Also on Sunday another message read that the body of a man about 65 years old was found under the platform of the West Shore freight house at Cornwall. Death was due to exposure and the body had lain there about two months. The man wore two pairs of pants and two coats, three pairs of socks and red rubber boots. He was about 6 feet tall and weighed about 145 pounds. In his pockets were found a pair of gold nose eyeglasses and a watch and 26 cents in money. It is thought that he had crept under the platform seeking shelter from the extreme cold. His identity was unknown.

Slippery Streets Over the Week-end
The light fall of snow together with moderating temperature made the streets here a glare of ice Saturday night and Sunday morning, and the street department sanded down the slippery places.

One of the particularly bad spots in weather conditions that prevailed Saturday and Sunday was the Broadway hill at West Chestnut street. A yellow warning sign, urging drivers to drive carefully, is posted conspicuously on a pole at the curb, but some drivers neglected to heed the warning and there were several near accidents as a result of trying to make the hill at Stuyvesant street at a rapid speed. Another bad corner is at Wurts and McEntee streets at the blinker and a warning sign has also been posted there.

Stores May Sell 'Sacks Of Milk' Thanks To Paper Bag Invention

By F. B. COLTON
(Associated Press Science Writer)
Washington, D. C. — Housewives soon may be ordering "a sack of milk" at the corner grocery as the result of a newly-invented paper bag, which the agriculture department here will preserve dried skim milk. And farmers may get a new market for the skim milk they usually throw to the pigs and calves.

Contains Food Values
Dried skim milk now is sold only in wholesale lots. It contains all the food values of ordinary milk except the fat, and can be used to supplement a limited food budget or to improve children's diets.

The new paper bag, consisting of an outer layer of bond paper and an inner bag made of two layers of glassine with paraffin between the layers, has been tested and found satisfactory by the department's bureau of dairy industry.

Small quantities of dried skim milk, suitable for household use, can be sold in these bags, which will preserve the dried milk for four months under favorable storage conditions.

For Home Use
The dried milk, largely a by-product of butter-making, probably can be sold cheaply enough in small quantities to be used in any home, says Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the bureau of home economics. It already is used by commercial bakeries and ice cream factories.

Dried skim milk contains the calcium and phosphorus that are important in children's diets. It is rich in protein, and in vitamin G, which is believed to prevent pellagra, the disease of the south which attacks persons in a too-limited diet.

One pound of dried skim milk is equivalent in food value to four and three-quarters quarts of fresh skim milk and can be used in the same manner if mixed with water.

Pythian Leader Dead, Order Pays Tribute
The death of William Ladew, grand keeper of records and seal of the Knights of Pythias, called Palmer Canfield to New York today. Special fraternal services will be held in Pythian Temple tonight in which Mr. Canfield will participate as the supreme representative and the deputy supreme chancellor for this state. Leading Pythians from nearly every state will be present as well as officers of many other fraternities. The interment will be in Kensico Cemetery on Tuesday.

William Ladew was known to many people of Ulster county. He had a summer home at Gardiner, where he has spent the summer months for many years. A number of his ancestors are buried in the cemetery at Mt. Tremper. He considered himself an Ulster countyite. He attended many Pythian meetings in Kingston. His first Pythian visit here was in 1890, when the grand lodge convened here. He was then captain of a military company of the Knights. The main event in those days was the competitive drill of the companies from various cities of the state. The hospitality of the citizens was so generous that Captain Ladew sought out Mayor John E. Kraft. With his help Captain Ladew received an invitation to have his company visit the jail. While the company was inspecting it the captain caused them to be locked in until it was time for the drill. As a result his company won first prize.

He was in attendance at the grand lodge when it was held in Kingston in July, 1921. At that time he was the supreme chancellor over the 6,000 lodges in the United States and Canada with over a million members. Palmer Canfield was then the grand chancellor of the state and also the mayor of Kingston. Over 2,000 Pythians attended, being the largest number that ever attended a grand lodge session which lasted an entire week. He had intended to speak at a Pythian district banquet to be held here in April. As one of the leading fraternalists of the country, he will be missed by his thousands of friends and his place in the Pythian order will be difficult to be filled.

New Japanese Boat Capsizes During Tests

Many Believed Drowned as "Capsize-Proof" Torpedo Boat Is Thought to Have Overturned in Heavy Seas During Navy Manoeuvres.

Tokyo, March 12 (AP)—The navy office announced today that the new Japanese torpedo boat Tomozuru, missing since early morning, had been found off the Sasebo naval base badly damaged and drifting, many of her crew believed drowned.

Contact was lost with the Tomozuru, a 527-ton vessel, during manoeuvres off Sasebo early today. A navy office communique said the torpedo boat was relocated at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

"Rescue efforts are proceeding," it was added. Between 70 and 80 officers and men were reported on the ship.

A dispatch from Sasebo to the newspaper Asahi said the Tomozuru, equipped with more than 100 aboard, nearly all were believed drowned. Several destroyers joined in a search for the torpedo boat after she was reported lost and fears were expressed she had capsized in the heavy seas.

The Tomozuru was completed only February 27. It is a new type, outside the range of the limits of the London Naval Treaty, because the tonnage is less than 600.

The Japanese recently completed three such ships. It is understood 18 others are building or projected—each carrying three five-inch guns and considered equal in fighting power to older and smaller destroyers.

It had been reported that some of the Tomozuru class were fitted with special apparatus to prevent capsizing.

Special study of this problem was given impetus after the destroyer Sawauchi capsized December 5, 1927, off the coast of Formosa with the loss of 195 lives.

Sasebo base headquarters made public the names of exactly 199 officers and men aboard the Tomozuru, many were believed lost.

The Tomozuru was regarded as a triumph of Japanese naval architecture, her class representing a step of effectively increasing the nation's sea power outside the categories limited by the London treaty.

It was understood the disaster was a source of deepest disappointment to the Japanese high command, a rigid inquiry was considered certain.
